2018 Scholarship Guide

Where do I find Scholarships?

Start close to home and in your community:

- Ask if your parent(s)/guardian(s) employer offers scholarships for high school students,
- Ask if your bank/credit union offers a scholarship,
- Research if your church, places you volunteer or community based organizations near you offer scholarships.

Visit the John F. Kennedy Website School Counseling Office page at <http://jfk.scusd.edu/counseling-career-center> and view 2018 Scholarships

Visit the Financial Aid page(s) on the websites of the Colleges and Universities you have applied to. California State University, Sacramento (CSUS) lists both scholarships specific to CSUS students and community scholarships offered to all students:

Scholarship Scam Red Flags

Guarantees - Nobody representing a legitimate scholarship can or will be able to guarantee that you'll win.

Unsolicited Scholarship Offers - If someone contacts you, via phone, mail or email, offering you a scholarship, and you never requested information from that provider, be very careful.

Don't Pay Fees - Applying for legitimate scholarships does not cost money! If the application requires money it's most likely a scam. Submitting scholarship applications will cost you time and effort, but should never cost money, no matter how small the amount.

Be cautious in giving personal information. Make sure you know that a scholarship is real and legitimate before providing personal information like a social security number.

See your Counselor. If you need help or have questions about scholarships set-up a meeting with your Counselor.
